"HIFI4ALL.DK" a Danish on-line magazine published a rave review of our HTA-2000 v.2 hybrid amplifier (06-2018) and received WARMEST RECOMMENDATIONS.

Overall Impression

"The meeting with the Taga HTA-2000B v.2 has been largely positive, and especially the many options you face are definitely demanding that you hear more music. Because you can both search for the "old" collection of LPs and CDs, or hunt online with various streaming services.

At the same time you meet a musicality, which also requires that you be seated, listen to and enjoy the music. And especially with the old media you get rewarded when you hear their music. Streaming is still subject to the sound of the different services for which quality matches the earnings, or the quality of the USB input you receive.

The appearance of the HTA-2000B is special and you can either like it or not. But if you want an amplifier that builds a bridge between old and new, there are not many that make it as good. Then I can live with the HTA-2000B also signaling that it is present in the room. And for the bridge building between new and old, it gets my warmest recommendations along the way."
